NEW EDUCATION POLICY 2020: TRANSFORMING INDIA INTO GLOBAL KNOWLEDGE HUB

The Union Cabinet on 29 July approved the new National Education Policy (NEP) and renamed the HRD Ministry as Education Ministry. There would be a single regulator for all higher education institutions and MPhil would be discontinued.

In a bid to ramp up digital learning, a National Educational Technology Forum (NETF) would be created. NEP 2020 has been formulated after an unprecedented process of consultation that involved nearly over 2 lakh suggestions from 2.5 lakhs Gram Panchayats, 6600 Blocks, 6000 Urban Local Bodies and 676 Districts. The MHRD initiated an unprecedented collaborative, inclusive, and highly participatory consultation process from January 2015. In May 2016, 'Committee for Evolution of the New Education Policy' under the Chairmanship of Late Shri T.S.R. Subramanian, Former Cabinet Secretary, submitted its report. In June 2017, a 'Committee for the Draft National Education Policy' was constituted under the Chairmanship of eminent scientist Dr. K. Kasturirangan, which submitted the Draft National Education Policy, 2019 to the Union Human Resource Development Minister on 31st May, 2019. The Draft National Education Policy 2019 was uploaded on MHRD's website and at 'MyGov Innovate' portal eliciting views/suggestions/comments of stakeholders, including public.

CIVIL SERVICES EXAMINATION IN CORONA TIMES NEED FOR A SOUND STRATEGY

S.B. Singh

For the first time since inception, the prestigious Civil Services Examination (CSE) has been postponed. The preliminary examination was originally fixed to be held on May 31, 2020 but has been now rescheduled to October 04, 2020. The Covid-19 pandemic has hit education in an unprecedented way. Not only the CSE, but all kinds of exams are put on hold with aspiring candidates staring at an uncertain future. This has raised a fundamental question: how to navigate the path of education, competition, jobs in such uncertain times? There are no easy answers to this. In this article, an attempt is made to help the CSE aspirants grasp the situation more clearly and resolve their dilemmas:

Mental Health: The stress caused by an isolated life under prolonged lockdown is bound to result in mental fatigue. Among the youth, it is causing pessimism, frustration, impatience as reported globally. Sudden withdrawal from human connections leads to such negative developments. This can demotivate a candidate with an adverse impact on his/her performance. Awareness about Mental Health will lead to better handling of one's emotions. Perseverance is the key to success. It requires one to carry on till a task is completed. Cultivation of emotional intelligence can be supremely helpful to acquire new, fresh perspectives on life and its challenges. Emotional intelligence helps in better understanding of what we are going through. With deeper insight and clearer vision, one can face challenges like the one put before us by the present pandemic.

Physical Health: Sedentary, confined lifestyle is bound to create health issues. With limited access to hospitals, doctors and medicine shops, one has to go for preventive health care. This can be done by regulating food, sleep, indoor exercise etc.

Academic Health: This is a foundational requirement for success.

What it implies is that your pursuit of the syllabus must be as robust as your health. The pre - Corona period offered many support systems like coaching, library readings, attending real time test series, discussions with mentors, buying books, journals, newspapers, exchanging ideas with peers, etc. Unfortunately, these supports do not exist in the present situation and one may have to go on without them in the near future. What is to be done then? The obvious choice is to shift to online support. It comes in multiple ways. There are online classes for all subjects. Coaching activities are shifting online. Newspapers and journals are available online. Test series too are available aplenty online. But an element of caution is to be exercised while choosing these platforms. All kinds of self styled experts are crowding the online platform with no known credentials in the subjects. Choosing one with authentic credentials is important or else, there will be no substantive gain. Try to see how knowledgeable your mentors are. Are they teaching something new or just repeating the text books and coaching material and news articles. This can be managed in a

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA MODI'S MANN KI BAAT: HIGHLIGHTS

- 'Kargil Vijay Divas' (26 July) marks our victory in Kargil war. On this day 21 years ago, our army planted our victory flag in Kargil war. Pakistan unfolded this empty adventure to divert the attention of people. India's brave soldiers displayed their strength. Our army fought with grit and true valour and attained victory. The grit and respect of our soldiers should increase by our deeds, our actions, our words, our statements, our definitions and our vision.
- Let us take a resolve to attain freedom from the pandemic during the upcoming Independence Day. Let us create self-reliant India. Let us learn a new thing and teach it. Let us do our duties and stay strong. We have attained this height because of the penance-sacrifice of many great people.
- The whole nation is united in the fight against corona virus pandemic. The recovery rate in our country is better when compared to other nations. The number of people who die because of Covid-19 in our country is comparatively less than many countries. India is making successful attempts to safeguard the lives of its people. The danger caused by corona has not yet gone. It is spreading fast in many places. It is very necessary for us adopt more precaution.
- While we have to fight against coronavirus with alertness on one side, we should also increase the speed of our duties such as business, work and education with hard work on the other side to take them to great heights. Many good attempts by villagers and village panchayats are attracting our attention during corona times. Balbir Kaur, chief of Treva village panchayat in Jammu, has set up a quarantine centre with 30 beds in his panchayat. Zaituna Begum, a panchayat chief from Kashmir distributed apple plants and seeds for cultivation.
- Women Self-Help Group members in Bihar made masks with Madhubani paintings and they became popular in a few days. While showcasing our tradition, the Madhubani mask is also providing health and livelihood to people. In the north east, artisans of Tripura, Manipur and Assam have started making high quality water bottles and tiffin boxes out of bamboo. In Jharkhand's Bishanpur, over 30 groups are cultivating lemon grass these days. Its oil which gets ready in just four months is being sold in markets for good price.
- When we think about making a new achievement, things which are unimaginable by anyone become possible. Some youngsters from Bihar who were doing ordinary jobs underwent training in Jaipur and Bhubaneswar and started cultivating pearls in their village. Besides generating income on their own, they have also started providing training to migrant workers who had returned from other States in Muzzaffarpur, Begusarai and Patna. Self-reliant path has been opened to many people because of this!
- Floods in States such as Assam and Bihar during monsoon have created considerable disruptions. Relief and rescue operations are being carried out amid corona at one side and flooding challenge on the other. The country is united in support of all those who are affected by the disaster.
- Our country is witnessing change. Our youngsters are touching the heights of glory. Despite hardships, they are creating new dreams and growing. School final exam results of some of these persons show this to us. Despite difficult circumstances, the self-confidence of the younger generation, their success stories give us motivation.

CIVIL SERVICES EXAMINATION ...

better way by organising self study. For the basic reading, if one relies on NCERT books, there is hardly any need to attend classes. It can be pursued solely by self study as these books are written in simple language that can be grasped easily. Many parts can be done by self study, especially those which require gathering information and facts. If you develop a knack for gathering right and relevant information by flipping through past years' questions, then you really don't need to invest time and money doing it. However, this is not to suggest that you can do everything by yourself. This only means that you must realise that you can do pretty much by yourself. However, there will be many challenging parts of the syllabus, which you may not be able to cope up with. For those parts, you need support of a good mentor. A good mentor is one who is knowledgeable, articulate, expressive and who can stimulate your intellect by providing not only information but qualities like good vocabulary, right terminologies and good writing skills.

Emphasis on standard sources: The civil services exam has evolved in a manner that seeks to test your original, in depth grasp over the syllabus which can come from cultivating standard reading habits. For each area of study, there are good standard books available. You need to read them thoroughly. Most often, commercialized study materials have very little to offer other than compilation. For example, reading constitution from P M Bakshi's book which contains articles and short explanations is better than compiled books on polity. For core subjects like history, geography, economy and polity, there is no substitute to standard text books. Even on areas like social issues, international relations, good books are available. You need compilation for current affairs, not for static portions of the syllabus. In fact, when you read from a good standard source, your understanding is much better on a topic compared to compiled sources.

Avoid over doing test series: While it is necessary to do sample tests for both prelims and mains, one should do it judiciously. Wasting your time on questions which have been framed to give you "fifty plus test series" experience is really of not much use because most of them are not worthy of being asked in the exam. You will simply waste time and energy doing something which is least likely to be asked. A better way is to read the text books more minutely. Even for test series, you should do original questions of UPSC asked in the last ten years or so. A good command over text book based information is better than a poorly planned test series.

Priority to Current Affairs: The backbone of the Civil Services Exam is Current Affairs. It is wide, diverse, and challenging. It just can't be commanded overnight. You develop a good understanding of current issues only by continuous efforts. It cannot come from one or two sources. Reading from a combination of newspapers, journals, TV news analysis by experts etc can bolster your preparations on current affairs. Regular discussions, exchange of ideas and perspectives with mentors can help build good current affairs.

Strategy for Prelims:

- CSAT: Since it is of qualifying nature, a score of around 40% is enough (though only 33% is needed), in this paper. If you are strong in comprehension part of CSAT, concentrate more on that, or if you are good in math and reasoning, make it so good that you get the minimum percentage in CSAT. Last five or six years' questions on CSAT will give you a sense of the level of questions and let you assess your strengths and weaknesses.
- General Studies (Prelims): In this paper, one can get at least 50 questions from four core areas viz; history, polity, geography and economics. If you read important chapters on these core areas from books and solve last 20 years' questions asked by UPSC, you can handle this portion smoothly.

- Current Affairs: For the upcoming prelims exam, it's very difficult to grasp the range of questions due to long disruption caused by the lockdown. Usually, the prelims questions are ready two months before the exam. It means questions were set before 25th March when lockdown was announced. In that case, current affairs should be covered for one year or so. More specifically, you should do current topics of the period between January 2019 to March 2020. Though many new topics have emerged since March, 2020, but given the dislocation of life during this period, setting of new questions would pose challenges. In my view, some new questions on corona virus, vaccine efforts, how it has impacted the economy, India China border issues, Chinese claims on Bhutan territories might be asked if UPSC can set such questions from in house efforts. Therefore, given the uncertain nature of current affairs this year, one must try and do well in core syllabus i.e static portions.

Indian to Witness Silent Industrial Revolution: RBI Governor

Indian industry will play a pivotal role and bring silent revolution in coming days. Reserve Bank of India Governor Shaktikanta Das has highlighted five major dynamic shifts in the country which need to be converted into structural transformations. He said the five areas including the farm sector, renewable energy, ICT, global value chains and infrastructure will act as force multipliers and will lead to sizable benefits for the economy. Das also said that the country must fight relentlessly against the coronavirus pandemic which has affected an already-slumping economy. The governor said that reforms in the agriculture sector will boost farmers' income and will add value to the economy. He said that the key challenge before the Indian agriculture sector is surplus management rather than self-sufficiency. Das stated that the gap on the infrastructure front remains large. He said the country needs $4.5 trillion for investment in Infrastructure by 2030, citing NITI AAYOG estimates. The RBI Governor also pointed out that the coronavirus pandemic has impacted funding for start-ups.
