MAKING INDIA A GLOBAL TOY MANUFACTURING HUB

Dr. S. P. Sharma and Ms. Kritika Bhasin

Amid the difficult times caused by the pandemic COVID-19, the clarion call for AatmaNirbhar Bharat given by Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi with the aim of making the country a global manufacturing hub has given Indian economy a new direction. It has brought together the diversified efforts and given people an idea to dwell upon and move towards one unified goal. Many sectors have been identified which could contribute in this great endeavour. At this juncture, the Indian toy industry holds a great opportunity to become Aatma Nirbhar and globally competitive with enhanced production possibilities.

Today, the global toy industry is valued at around US$ 100 billion, growing at an average compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5%. The market is driven by fast growing developing economies and high resilience of toy industry itself as it is closely associated with overall development of children. However, in the vast global toy market, India occupies a meagre share of 1.5%.

India's toy market stands at around US$ 1.5 billion, which is projected to grow at around 10-15% CAGR as compared to market. China accounts for the highest share (around 84%) in India's imports of toys, followed by Hong Kong (5.5%), Sri Lanka (2.3%), Malaysia (1.4%) and United Kingdom (0.9%). On the other hand, India majority exports toys to United States of America (26.2%), followed by United Kingdom (9.7%), Germany (8%), Belgium (6.4%) and Poland (5%).

130 million in 2019-20, while the imports were at US$ 280 million in the same period with a trade deficit of around US$

Unorganised segment of the toy market in India is quite high at 90%, whereas around 4,000 toy manufacturing units fall under MSME sector. Majority of toy manufacturers in India are located in Maharashtra, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, National Capital Region (NCR) along with clusters across states in central India. Government allows 100% foreign direct investment (FDI) through automatic route to toy industry.

The demographic and economic attributes of India provide a favourable environment to the growth and development of the toy industry. India is the second most populated country in the world, after China. India's total population crosses 135 crores, of which around 22%

Do you want to work in the field in one of the most powerful power sources? Then, being a Nuclear Engineer can be a right career choice for you.

WHAT IS NUCLEAR ENGINEERING?

Nuclear Engineering is a branch of engineering which includes topics and theories from both electrical engineering and chemical engineering. It deals with combining and breaking down of nuclei. Nuclear Engineering deals with the study of thermodynamics, radiation, nuclear safety and fuel and so on. These processes include the release, control, and utilization of nuclear energy and the production and use of radiation and radioactive materials for applications in research, industry, medicine, and national security. Nuclear Engineering is based on fundamental principles of physics and mathematics.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN NUCLEAR ENGINEERING

Nuclear Engineering as a Career

Nuclear Engineering also includes fields such as radiation measurement and imaging, nuclear fusion and plasma physics, nuclear materials, and medical and health physics. Nuclear Engineering is therefore inherently a multifaceted discipline, relying on several branches of physics and, like the aerospace industry, it relies to a large extent on modelling and simulation for the design and analysis of complex systems that are too large and expensive to be tested.

WHO IS A NUCLEAR ENGINEER?

A Nuclear Engineer researches and develops the processes, instruments and systems used to derive benefits from nuclear energy and radiation. A career as a Nuclear Engineer involves designing, building, running and shutting nuclear power stations. Nuclear Engineering career requires to work in multi-disciplinary teams to come up with technical solutions. Depending on their role they could be designing totally new systems, maintaining existing systems, or looking for ways to improve the efficiency, stability, and sustainability of nuclear power plants. Shutting down facilities is also an important task, as storage and disposal of the radioactive material used in nuclear plants require planning and following proper safety procedures.

WHAT DO NUCLEAR ENGINEERS DO? WORK DESCRIPTION

A Nuclear Engineer understands the science behind how a nuclear facility work. Nuclear Engineering career involves analysing energy transmission, conversion, and storage systems and also solving operational problems with the reactor cores and shielding, hydraulic and electrical systems, and complex instrumentation such as the monitoring equipment.

MAKING INDIA A GLOBAL TOY MANUFACTURING HUB

are in the age group of 0-10 years. Further, the factors such as rising disposable income, growing middle class, rapid urbanisation, high penetration of e-commerce, among others are catalysts for the growth of toy industry in the country.

On the economic front, the journey of Indian economy has been promising as the country's economic growth trajectory has changed from steady during 1960s to 1990s to fast in 2000s and fastest in the 2010s. Though the year 2020 was marked as a difficult year due to the daunting impact of pandemic COVID-19, the Government took proactive and meaningful reforms to revive the economy at the earliest. Effect of the reforms undertaken by the Government has now become visible with a strong rebound in the economic and business indicators and a sharp recovery in India's GDP growth in Q3 FY 2020-21 at 0.4% as compared with (-) 7.3% in Q2 and (-) 24.4% in Q1 2020-21. Further, the International Monetary Fund (IMF) has recently forecast a spectacular growth rate of 11.5% for India in FY 2021-22, making the country the only major economy of the world to register a double-digit growth rate.

The Government has always been supportive towards the growth of toy industry in India through various reforms and policies aimed at boosting indigenous manufacturing, creation of industrial ecosystem, rationalisation of import duties, strong quality control checks, among others. Last year, the import duty on toys was increased to 60% from 20% in a move to promote local manufacturing and support toy making MSMEs.

In February 2020, the Central Government published 'The Toys (Quality Control) Order, 2020', requiring all toys for children below 14 years to be certified by the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS). However, to provide an impetus to medium, small and micro toy production units in the country, the Government released Toys (Quality Control) Second Amendment Order, 2020 in December 2020, wherein, goods manufactured and sold by artisans registered with Development Commissioner (Handicrafts) were exempted from use of Standard Mark under licence from BIS.

Through National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, the Government accentuated the focus on play-based and activity-based education on a large scale. As toys are associated with cognitive development, language interactions, symbolic and pretend play, problem-solving, social interactions, and physical activity in the children, these would play a prime role in the NEP and provide a fillip to toy industry.

Given the aforementioned toy industry statistics and demographic and economic characteristics of India, massive market opportunity is present in the country for toy industry to rise to greater heights and achieve self-reliance. These aspects make India a dream market for any toy company/entrepreneur.

The idea of promoting Indian toy industry gained momentum from Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's 'Mann Ki Baat' address in August 2020, wherein he expressed his desire to establish India as a global toy hub, promote 'Vocal for Local' and increase India's presence at the world economic system. Following this, the National Action Plan 2020 was developed to provide a push to the toy industry including traditional handicrafts and handmade toys. The plan was commissioned by the Department for Promotion of Industries and Internal Trade (DPIIT) with collaboration of 14 central ministries, including education, textiles, railways, science and technology, and information and broadcasting, for overall development of the sector in 13 identified handicrafts toy clusters.

On the lines of national initiative to promote the domestic toy industry, the Government conceptualised and organised 'The India Toy Fair 2021' from 27th February 2021 to 2nd March 2021 through the first-ever digitally accessible exhibition and platform. The fair was inaugurated by the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. Addressing the event, the Prime Minister called for bringing out the hidden potential of the toy industry in India and to create an identity for it as a big part of the campaign for Aatma Nirbhar Bharat. The Prime Minister said that in the field of toys, India has tradition and technology, concepts and competence.

"Through this Toy Fair, the Government and the Industry shall come together to discuss how India can be made the next global hub for manufacturing and sourcing of toys by way of attracting investments in the sector and promoting exports" - Shri Narendra Modi, Prime Minister.

The focus on promoting Indian toy industry reflects the Government's intent to stimulate labor-intensive indigenous manufacturing segments through which India can rise as an alternative to China as well as fulfil the objectives of creating employment opportunities in the country for large young workforce, facilitate the MSME sector, promote 'Make in India' initiative and move towards becoming Aatma Nirbhar as well as a global manufacturing hub in the coming times. To move in this direction, there is a need to manufacture quality products that meet global standards as well as promote and enhance the image of Brand India globally. At this stage, toy industry could play a major role.

At this juncture, there is a need of large-scale investments in infrastructure, increased investments in innovation and research and development (R&D), massive skill development programmes, among others to ensure long-term competitiveness of industry and enhance the image of Brand India globally.

Further, India should come out with more quality control orders and technical regulations for different products to check inferior and low quality imports from China. This will serve two purposes. First, India is enforcing these regulations even for its export consignments. Secondly, this would send out a positive message to the world about the stringent quality standards and would help in promoting Indian brands.

Bolstering manufacturing at competitive costs should be a key focus area for the Government in the post-COVID-19 period, if India wants to take advantage of the global supply chain disruptions and become a global manufacturing and exporting hub. It also becomes crucial for India to think big and be ready with a strategy to further build capacities bring in economies of scale, and improve price competitiveness to make its export products more relevant and appealing to the global buyers.

Furthermore, focus should be put upon building of value chain ecosystem of toys in the country instead of importing components and doing assembling activities. This will increase India's economies of scale, reduce cost, ensure quality & dependability, increase traceability and help in maintaining speed of delivery. These are the crucial elements which will make Indian toy export products attractive at the global level.

Last but not least, ease of doing business is crucial for the overall growth of the toy industry as it will attract foreign investments and provide a considerable boost to the domestic businesses. At this juncture, the implementation of various measures to enhance the ease of doing business and to reduce transaction costs would be crucial to make India's toy industry globally competitive.

In a nutshell, India is at a crucial juncture to become a toy manufacturing hub given the massive market opportunity, favourable demographic factors and extensive support by the Government. To make this a reality, further push is required towards enhancing labour-intensive indigenous manufacturing, facilitating exports, building image of brand India, promote research & development, innovation and ensuring adherence to international standards.
